1. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Description of Entity – The State Bar of California (“State Bar”) was first formed as a public corporation by the California State Legislature’s passage of the State Bar Act on July 29, 1927. On November 8, 1960, voters amended the California Constitution to add the State Bar as a constitutional agency in the judicial branch of government. Membership in the State Bar and payment of an annual membership fee are required as a condition of the practice of law in the State of California.

The State Bar’s Sections are voluntary organizations of attorneys and affiliates who share an area of interest. The Sections help their members maintain expertise in their various fields of law, expand their professional contracts, and serve the profession, the public and the legal system. The State Bar’s Sections Fund accounts for the activities of sixteen sections, which consist of specific practice areas or areas of professional interest and provide members with a vehicle for communicating with each other, educating themselves, and commenting on relevant legislation. Each Section is governed by an executive committee of members appointed by the State Bar Board of Trustee. The Sections Fund belongs to the Special Revenue Fund Group in the State Bar’s fund structure.

Basis of Accounting – To ensure observance of limitations and restrictions placed on the use of resources available to the State Bar, the accounts of the State Bar are maintained in accordance with the principles of fund accounting. This is the procedure by which resources for various purposes are classified for accounting and reporting purposes into funds established according to their nature and purpose.

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America are applied by the State Bar in conformance with pronouncements of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (“GASB”). Amounts in the Statement of Receipts Collected and Expenditures of Sections (“Statement”) were derived from the State Bar’s audited 2016 financial statements. This Statement presents the receipts collected and expenditures for all sixteen sections in the Sections Fund, on an accrual basis of accounting, where receipts collected and expenditures include accrued amounts.

Use of Estimates – The preparation of the Statement requires management to make estimates and assumptions. Actual results could differ from those estimates. These estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of receipts collected and expenditures during the reporting period.

2. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The accompanying Statement was prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts collected and expenditures of the Sections in compliance with California Business and Professions (“B&P”) Code Sections 6145 and 6031.5. B&P Code Section 6145 requires the State Bar to contract with an independent accounting firm to audit its financial statements each fiscal year. The statute also requires that the audit should examine the receipts collected and expenditures of the State Bar Sections, to ensure that the receipts collected of the Sections are being applied, and their expenditures are being made, in compliance with subdivision (a) of Section 6031.5. Although the Statement is derived from the State Bar’s audited 2016 financial statements, the Statement is not a substitute for the financial statements, nor is it intended to be a complete presentation of the State Bar’s receipts collected and expenditures in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Amounts reported in the Statement can be reconciled with amounts reported in the State Bar’s audited 2016 financial statements.

3. DESCRIPTION OF SECTIONS FUND

Revenues – The State Bar’s Sections are funded through membership fees and revenue from seminars and workshops. Total revenues for 2016 are $9.1 million. Annual membership fees for each Section range from $85 to $95. In 2016, the Sections had approximately 63,700 members and annual revenues from member fee assessments total $6.1 million. Other program revenues include seminars and workshops revenues, online continuing legal education (CLE) revenues, convention income, advertising income, commissions, rebates and donations, which account for approximately $3 million in 2016.

The State Bar contracted with InReach to manage its online CLE program. Total revenues received from this source in 2016 are $1,039,879. The online CLE program hosted by InReach includes CLE classes developed by both the Sections and non-Sections programs. Both Sections and non-Sections program revenues are included in a Fund (Fund 88) which is part of the Sections group of Funds, instead of being immediately allocated out to the appropriate non-Sections program area. In addition, Fund 88 also serves as a clearinghouse to capture other non-Sections’ activities, which include vendor rebates and commissions, royalty fees from insurance policyholders and CLE registration discount. Eighty three percent of the $1,039,879 in InReach revenue was allocated to the appropriate program. A balance of $179,009 remains in Fund 88 for future allocation when final reconciliation is completed in 2017.

The accompanying Statement was prepared for the purpose of presenting the revenues and expenses of the Sections in compliance with California Business and Professions (“B&P”) Code Sections 6145 and 6031.5. As a result, inter-fund transfers are not presented in the Statement.

Expenses – Sections Fund’s operating expenses include salary and benefits, travel, catering, professional services, legislative advocacy and indirect cost allocation. Total expenses for 2016 are $8.2 million.

Indirect Cost Allocation – The Sections’ total operating expenses include $1,350,990 in indirect cost allocation. The State Bar adopted a standardized cost allocation methodology (CAM) which distributes to individual functional programs the central administrative costs captured in the State Bar’s support and administrative cost centers including, Human Resources, Finance, Member Billing, Information Technology, Board of Trustees, General Services and General Counsel. The CAM consists of two key procedures: 1) determine support and administrative cost centers and determine the indirect cost pool for allocation; and 2) allocate the indirect cost pool to individual cost centers based on the following allocation bases: full time equivalent, office space occupancy, direct costs and member dues revenues.

A summary of the indirect cost pool, including the specific allocation bases applied to each cost category, and indirect costs allocated to Sections in 2016, is provided on the following page:
